Alaska. With each joint application, Harvest Alaska and BPPA filed motions requesting a waiver of certain filing requirements. Additionally, with each joint application, Harvest Alaska; Hilcorp Alaska, LLC; and Harvest Midstream I, LP filed petitions for confidential treatment of their respective financial statements. We issued public notices of the joint applications, the petitions for confidential treatment, and the motions for waiver on October 4, 2019, with comments due on October 25, 2019. We issued supplemental notices on October 23, 2019, and November 14, 2019, that extended the time to file comments first to November 8, 2019, and ultimately to December 13, 2019. We received numerous comments.

On December 11, 2019, we issued an order designating a commission panel, appointing an administrative law judge, and addressing the timeline for a decision.

in these proceedings. We explained that no timeline for a decision would be set until we ruled on the petitions for confidential treatment and the motions for waiver. On December 13, 2019, we required Harvest Alaska and BPPA to file additional documents by December 23, 2019.

By regulation, we are required to issue a ruling on a petition for confidential treatment or a motion for waiver 30 days after the end of the comment period. Because the public comment period in these dockets ended December 13, 2019, our decision on the petitions for confidential treatment and motions for waiver is due January 10, 2019.

As noted above, we received numerous comments in response to our public notices and requested and received from Harvest Alaska and BPPA’s new documents.
We need additional time to review those recent filings and issue our ruling on the petitions for confidential treatment and motions for waiver. Therefore, we extend the time to rule
